BEATEN BY THE STABLE GANG.

Five of Its Members Founced Upon Policeman Moore.

Thomas Moore, a policeman attached to the East Eighty-eighth street station, was set upon and brutally beaten on Second avenue, near One Hundred and First street, shortly after midnight this morning by five members of the Stable Gang...

The chief complainant was Thomas Graham, who keeps a saloon on the southeast corner of One Hundredth street and Broadway...

Moore went on duty at midnight and received the effect on the early shift at One Hundredth street at 12:30. The complainant was not likely settled, and it was very dark when Moore, in the line of his duty, began to try the door, among his post to see if they were securely locked.

He was striking several times in the face and on attempting to flee, was repeatedly knocked down. Moore's assailants then tried to kill him with a brick...
